Couples Get Some Freedom

Letter Of Bishops Defends 'Pill' Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's Roman Catholic bishops have offered a measure of freedom to married couples to use artificial birth control, but little immediate help to dissident priests who clamored for them to take a stand.

In a 16,000-word compromise pastoral letter, the National Council of Catholic Bishops firmly defended Friday Pope Paul VI's continuing ban on all artificial contraception.

But, in the climax of a week of fierce debate, they said couples who break the ban will not be turned away from the church and communion.

The bishops suggested "circumstances may reduce moral guilt," although they did not go as far as listing any circumstances.

Disclaims 'Co-President' Role

Nixon Claims Long-Term Commitments Need His OK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard Nixon disclaims any effort to make himself "co-President" with jurisdiction over foreign policy in advance of his inauguration—but he still maintains that to be valid, any long-term commitments abroad need his approval.

That, in essence, is the position the President-elect took, and made public through a top aide, after President Johnson made clear his determination to remain firmly in command until Jan. 20.

Bryce N. Harlow, an assistant to the President-elect, telephoned Johnson Thursday night, got a call back from the President Friday. And sources said Harlow had assured Johnson that Nixon was "not attempting to presume upon the constitutional authority of the President."

As for Johnson, a Nixon associate said, "The President tried to make it clear that con-

South Viet Expected To Join Talks

U.S. Refuses To Figure When Thieu Will End Boycott

PARIS (AP) — American officials in Paris expect South Vietnam to join the Vietnam peace talks, but they refused to predict today when President Nguyen Van Thieu will end his boycott, which has stalled the talks for two weeks.

Unofficial reports from Saigon that Thieu might be bending his conditions for sending a delegation to Paris bolstered American optimism.

Thieu said Friday he and President Johnson are working to settle their differences, and "we must strive to level all these contradictions." He did not elaborate.

The South Vietnamese president met with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in Saigon Friday, and a full report of their talk was sent to Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator in Paris.

Thieu has said he will not send a delegation to Paris unless it could be the leader of the Washington-Saigon side of the table. And he said North Vietnam would have to lead the opposing delegation with the National Liberation Front as an integral part of the Hanoi side.

Hanoi has told the United States that the NLF, which claims to be the rightful government of South Vietnam, would sit as a separate entity at the negotiating table.

American officials said Saigon and Washington could negotiate Thieu's condition for leadership of the allied delegation, but the U.S. could not tell Hanoi how to organize its side.

In Brussels, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that the formula under which Washington and Hanoi agreed to enlarge the peace talks was left deliberately vague to allow each side of the table to organize its participants without approval from the opposing side.

Rusk also said that once the peace talks begin, they could go on for a long time and be accompanied by more hard fighting.

The bishops' statement stirred one new dispute immediately—over the Vietnam war and the draft—and failed to silence another over priests punished for public dissent.

The Catholic hierarchy openly questioned the worth of the war and asked, "Has the conflict in Vietnam provoked inhuman dimensions of suffering?"

The bishops urged an end to the military draft in peacetime. And called for selective conscientious objection to military service for those who may feel only a specific war is unjust.

One In Nixon Plot Free On $25,000 Bond

NEW YORK (AP) — A Yemeni Arab accused of plotting to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon has been released on $25,000 bond.

"I love America — I'm innocent," said Ahmed Rageh Namer, 43, in his lawyer's office Friday after his release.

Namer's lawyer, Joseph Iovino, said Namer's bond was raised by Namer's friends and neighbors who put up $750 collateral.

He said there was insufficient money to cover the $25,000 bail on each of Namer's sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 18, who were indicted with their father Wednesday on charges of criminal conspiracy and illegal possession of weapons.

The bail had been reduced from $100,000 each, set Wednesday.

BRUSSELS (AP) — The 15 nations of the North Atlantic Alliance warned the Soviet Union today any further aggression in Europe or the Mediterranean would "provoke an international crisis of grave consequences."

The warning to Moscow was endorsed by all members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including France.

The two-day meeting of the council of the alliance ended with publication of the communiqué. French approval was taken as an indication that France has closed ranks with its allies following the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

The communiqué said:

"Members of the alliance urgently invite the Soviet Union in the interest of world peace to refrain from using force and intervening in the affairs of other states resolved to safeguard the freedom and independence of their country. They (NATO members) could not remain indifferent to any development which would endanger their security."

"It is evident that Soviet intervention having a direct or indirect influence on the situation in Europe or the Mediterranean would provoke an international crisis of grave consequences."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk indicated the tone of the statement might take Friday when he said the safety of the alliance, including the United States, would be affected if the Soviets move into Yugoslavia or Austria.

Rusk also was reported to have said that a Soviet invasion of Romania would have graver consequences than the Czechoslovakia invasion.

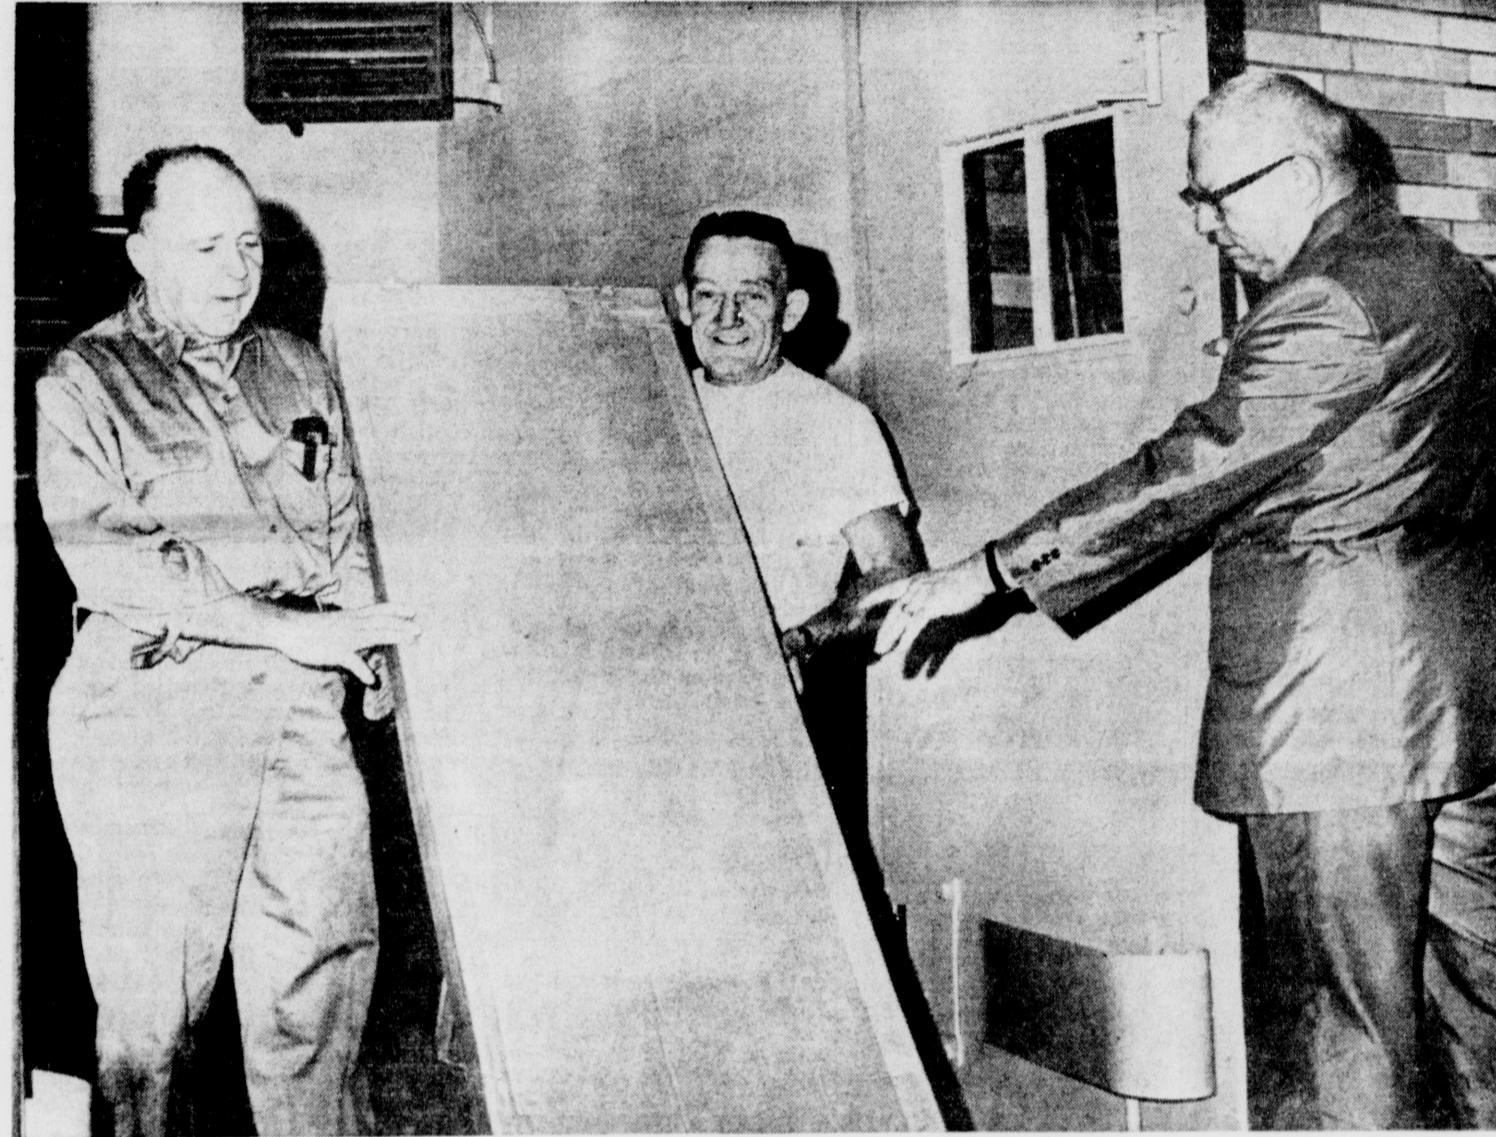

Romania is a member of the Warsaw Pact, but has been taking an independent line recently.

Yugoslavia, though Communist for the past 20 years, has been independent of Moscow. Austria is neutral with its status guaranteed by the United States, Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Some members took his remarks to mean Americans favor an extension of NATO protection to certain non-NATO states. But U.S. officials disputed such an interpretation. An unknown was how far Rusk can commit President-elect Richard Nixon.

New Facility Opens Monday

It's 'Moving Day' For Post Office

The city's postal operations were being transferred today from the 60-year-old building on Broadway to the new Post Office on Dresden Ave.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, right, is shown holding a door for Leroy Fotheringham, center, and Harold Freeman, custodians, as they carry some equipment into the new structure this morning.

Brown said some supplies were transferred Friday, while moving of heavy equipment was under way today and will be completed Sunday.

Full operation of the new Post Office is planned Monday, he stated.

The modern one-story structure on Dresden Ave., near Smith St., was dedicated Nov. 3. Start of operations was delayed when a part of the structure was damaged in September, as a wall of an adjacent structure being razed collapsed and fell on the south side of the postal facility, injuring three men.

Brown said today some supplies will remain in the old Broadway building to be transferred later.

Plans are being considered for use of the former Post Office as a Pottery Museum.

Tri-County Program

Beaver Creek Called Key In New Resources Plan

LISBON — Directors of five staffed planning commissions in Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull counties are considering a "resources conservation and development" project proposed Wednesday at Youngstown.

James L. Morrissey, director of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission, said the tri-county RCD program was presented by Joe Hicks of the soil conservation service state office in Columbiana.

THE MEETING concentrated on the tri-county area's water resources, including Little Beaver Creek of particular interest to Columbiana County. The stream rises in Mahoning County east of Salem and empties into the Ohio River at Smiths Ferry, Pa.

Other Columbiana County residents at the meeting were Floyd Lower, secretary of the Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce; Paul Gipp, county extension agent for agriculture; Herman Reuter of the Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District office here; Dawson Irey, SWCD supervisor and past president of the county Farm Bureau; Howard Firestone of the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp., and Allen Cleveland, executive secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Feasibility studies requested earlier by the counties have been completed in part by the SCS and the Army Corps of Engineers.

Morrissey said the Columbiana County representatives obtained a promise from Hicks that SCS will provide an economic study in conjunction with other parts of the feasibility study.

Morrissey said the county group emphasized that Little Beaver Creek meanders through Beaver Creek State Park in southeastern Columbiana County and the state is demonstrating an intense interest in a regulated flow.

Education Week Provides Theme At PTA Meeting

A program in keeping with the observance of American Education Week featured the meeting of the United School Parents - Teacher Association at the school.

The theme was "America Has a Good Thing Going — It's School."

A film, "How You Can Help Your Child Get the Most Out of School," was screened. A panel comprised of administrative and faculty representatives answered questions.

Panel members include Supt. Chester Brattigan, Principal Robert Carter, James Gow, elementary principal, Joseph Herman, guidance director, Mrs. Joann Ketterer, vocational home economics, Mrs. Betty McKarns, elementary, and Miss Geraldine Vanholen, kindergarten.

Miss Bonnie Cox, kindergarten, was in charge of the program and Lee Hardgrove, art supervisor.

Miss Marian Izak, vocal music supervisor, will direct a musical program at the Dec. 9 meeting which will begin at 8. John Howell, instrumental supervisor, also will direct.

Massive Police Hunt Launched In $80,000 Theft

CINCINNATI (AP) — A massive police hunt was being conducted today for a man who staged what is believed to be the biggest robbery ever of a financial institution in the Cincinnati area.

The bandit herded eight employees of the suburban White Oak branch of the Southern Ohio Bank into a vault, held them at bay with a gun, and escaped Friday with about $80,000.

No one was hurt in the holdup, but the robber's gun accidentally discharged as he attempted to load money into sacks and ricocheted before striking a counter in front of the employees.

The owner of the truck has been identified as Carl Kearns of Salem Rd. 1.

The accident is still under investigation.

At 7:23 p.m. Friday, Terry Eugene Taylor, 18, of 506 Carolina Ave., Chester, was operating a 1959 sedan on Ceramic St., about 100 feet south of Logan St. when his auto struck a parked 1964 sedan belonging to Zelma Holman of 1225 Ceramic St.

Taylor told police his car hit a hole in the street and he lost control. Taylor was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Two cars were involved in a mishap at the Midway Diner parking lot on the River Rd. Friday at 1:43 p.m.

They were driven by Jeffrey S. Welch, 19, of 1880 Anderson Blvd. and Ray Grafton, 61, of Box 271, Station A.

Welch said he saw Grafton's sedan approaching, but thought the driver was going to wait until he had backed out. Grafton said he was preparing to park when the incident occurred.

Meanwhile, a report was filed Friday on a mishap Thursday afternoon on W. 3rd St., 40 feet west of Jackson St. that involved a 1960 four-door sedan driven by Hayward L. Goldsmith, 49, of 1731 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1965 model tractor-trailer operated by Joseph Hoppel, 22, of RD 3.

Goldsmith was traveling west on W. 3rd St. and Hoppel was turning onto W. 3rd from Jackson St., officers said. The mishap damaged the left rear door and quarter panel of the auto and bent the right front bumper of the rig, which is owned by Dave Hoppel of the Calcutta Smiths Ferry Rd.

California's GOP Gains Led States' Legislatures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican gain of three seats in the California State Assembly had the most national significance of the changes made in state legislatures by the November elections.

Across the country, Republicans gained a net 40 or so seats, the most in nearly 1,000 seats in the nation's 7,600 legislative districts.

Much of this edge is built in the Deep South, where some chambers have no Republicans.

Seven states held no legislative elections this month and in many states, only half the seats were on the ballot. Republicans made gains in 38 chambers, Democrats in 31.

In some states where overt party control did not shift, shifts in membership could still bring political change.

In Massachusetts, for example, Republican Gov. John A. Volpe lost his veto-sustaining power when his party slipped to less than one-third of the membership in each house.

The situation is reversed in Kansas, where Democratic Gov. Robert Docking no longer has enough Democratic legislators to sustain his vetoes.

In the Indiana and Iowa senates, where Democrats lost half their delegations and control, Republicans were simply regaining the four-year seats they had lost in the Lyndon Johnson landslide of 1964.

But the GOP's assembly victory in Nevada broke 40 years of Democratic control over that legislative body.

The Michigan House changed hands for the third straight election. Redistricting and the Johnson landslide in 1964 had broken 30 years of GOP rule and given the Democrats a near 2-to-1 edge. They lost the House narrowly in 1966 but regained it by four seats this time.

Republicans now hold both houses of the legislature in 21 states. Democrats have 20, control is divided in seven. Nebraska has a nonpartisan one-house legislature and Tennessee awaits the vote of the independent candidates.

With official vote canvasses and scattered recounts pending, and which the board said, became effective automatically because new appeals were not filed. The five were identified as Armstrong, Chester, Lackawanna and Montgomery counties.

Appeals have been filed with the board against the new plans submitted by the counties of Beaver, Delaware, Erie, Lancaster, Luzerne, Adams, Clinton, Crawford, Snyder, Somerset, Wayne, York, Allegheny and Northampton counties.

Ohio has not had a standing committee chairman in either house since the late Robert L. Crosser, Cleveland Democrat, headed the House Banking and Currency Committee in the 83rd Congress, 1955-57.

Ohio will send 19 Republicans and 7 Democrats to the 91st Congress. The 24 House members included 13 Republicans and six Democrats. The 90th score was 19-5.

Hearing Slated In Pennsylvania School Appeals

HARRISBURG (AP) — The first school district reorganization appeal heard by the State Board of Education since 1965 will commence here the week of Dec. 16.

The board announced Friday that the appeals involve 14 districts and are the result of recent legislation authorizing a new go-round for reorganization plans challenged in court.

The law took out of the hands of Commonwealth Court legal challenges of 19 county plans, which would have reduced 150 school districts to about 50.

The counties were directed to draw up new plans, five of which, the board said, became effective automatically because new appeals were not filed. The five were identified as Armstrong, Chester, Lackawanna and Montgomery counties.

Appeals have been filed with the board against the new plans submitted by the counties of Beaver, Delaware, Erie, Lancaster, Luzerne, Adams, Clinton, Crawford, Snyder, Somerset, Wayne, York, Allegheny and Northampton counties.

Tri-County Program

Beaver Creek Called Key In New Resources Plan

LISBON — Directors of five staffed planning commissions in Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull counties are considering a "resources conservation and development" project proposed Wednesday at Youngstown.

James L. Morrissey, director of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission, said the tri-county RCD program was presented by Joe Hicks of the soil conservation service state office in Columbus.

THE MEETING concentrated on the tri-county area's water resources, including Little Beaver Creek of particular interest to Columbiana County. The stream rises in Mahoning County east of Salem and empties into the Ohio River at Smiths Ferry, Pa.

Other Columbiana County residents at the meeting were Floyd Lower, secretary of the Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce; Paul Gipp, county extension agent for agriculture; Herman Reuter of the Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District office here; Dawson Ivey, SWCD supervisor and past president of the county Farm Bureau; Howard Firestone of the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp., and Allen Cleveland, executive secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Feasibility studies requested earlier by the counties have been completed in part by the SCS and the Army Corps of Engineers.

Morrissey said the Columbiana County representatives obtained a promise from Hicks that SCS will provide an economic study in conjunction with other parts of the feasibility study.

Morrissey said the county group emphasized that Little Beaver Creek meanders through Beaver Creek State Park in southeastern Columbiana County and the state is demonstrating an intense interest in a regulated flow.

Education Week Provides Theme At PTA Meeting

A program in keeping with the observance of American Education Week featured the meeting of the United School Parents - Teacher Association at the school.

The theme was "America Has a Good Thing Going — It's School."

A film, "How You Can Help Your Child Get the Most Out of School," was screened. A panel comprised of administrative and faculty representatives answered questions.

Panel members include Sup't. Chester Brautigam, Principal Robert Carter, James Gow, elementary principal, Joseph Hermon, guidance director, Mrs. Joann Ketterer, vocational home economics, Mrs. Betty McKarns, elementary, and Miss Geraldine VanHovel, kindergarten.

Miss Bonnie Cox, kindergarten, was in charge of the program and Lee Hardgrove, president, conducted business.

Morrissey said the organization would be comprised of the five planning commissions—the County Regional Planning Commission here, the Mahoning and Trumbull planning commissions and the city planning commissions in Youngstown and Warren.

Massive Police Hunt Launched In $80,000 Theft

CINCINNATI (AP) — A massive police hunt was being conducted today for a man who staged what is believed to be the biggest robbery ever of a financial institution in the Cincinnati area.

The bandit herded eight employees of the suburban White Oak branch of the Southern Ohio Bank into a vault, held them at gunpoint and escaped Friday with about $80,000.

No one was hurt in the holdup but the robber's gun accidentally discharged as he attempted to load money into sacks and ricocheted before striking a counter in front of the employees.

Manager Jerry Rohrer said the man entered the institution shortly before 6 p.m. — closing time — and asked about a car loan. Assistant Manager Louis Grand sat down with the man and after a bank worker locked the doors, the bandit stood up, announcing it was a holdup, and immediately began to corral the employees into the vault.

The bandit, who apparently fled in an auto with Kentucky license plates, was described as looking "like a professional football player." Rohrer said the man was clean cut, stood over 6-foot and weighed about 230 pounds.

Slides Screened At Grange Event

GAVERS — Ronald Rudebeck screened slides and discussed his experiences during the recent year he spent in Australia when Wayne Grange held its annual Thanksgiving supper Thursday at the hall here.

Miss Linda Robinson of Calcutta, a student at Beaver Local High School, reviewed the 4-H conference which she attended in Washington, D.C., last summer.

Mrs. Clyde Eskew, lecturer, was in charge of the program. The Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Susie Davis of Route 518, with members to bring a gift for an exchange and finger foods.

California's GOP Gains Led States' Legislatures

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican gain of three seats in the California State Assembly had the most national significance of the changes made in state legislatures by the November elections.

Across the country, Republicans gained a net 40 or so seats, over their pre-election holdings — a far cry from the 700 they picked up in 1966.

But the victories in California gave Republicans control of the state's lower house, making the Democrats' struggle for a comeback in the nation's most populous state more difficult.

Conservative GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan was repeatedly stymied during his first two years in office by the Assembly and its Democratic speaker, Jess M. Unruh.

Unruh, a potential Reagan rival in the 1970 gubernatorial election, will be reduced to Assembly minority leader.

How well he can combat Reagan from that position could partly determine how the governor's race goes in 1970 — and what base the Democrats will have for recapturing California in the 1972 presidential campaign.

The state's 40 electoral votes provided Richard M. Nixon his margin of victory this year.

Besides the California Assembly, Republicans took over the lower houses in New York and Nevada and the senates in Indiana, Iowa and Delaware.

Democrats won the lower houses in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Alaska.

Republicans also have a shot at the Tennessee House, where voters elected 49 Democrats, 49 Republicans and one independent who says he has voted all his life for Republican presidential candidates.

With official vote canvasses and scattered recounts pending, the state's 40 electoral votes provided Richard M. Nixon his margin of victory this year.

But the GOP's assembly victory in Nevada broke 40 years of Democratic control over that legislative body.

The Michigan House changed hands for the third straight election. Reapportionment and the Johnson landslide in 1964 had broken 30 years of GOP rule and given the Democrats a near 2-to-1 edge. They lost the House narrowly in 1966 but regained it by four seats this time.

Republicans now hold both houses of the legislature in 21 states. Democrats have 20, control is divided in seven. Nebraska has a nonpartisan one-house legislature and Tennessee awaits the vote of the independent.

Pat Caruca will be program chairman for the meeting Thursday at the New Riviera.

D. Herron of New Cumberland. Manfred was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors and placed under $500 bond. He was arrested last Saturday night in a raid by West Virginia state police.

Lewis was fined and sentenced to 10 days in jail on a charge of possession of alcohol on licensed beer premises. Lewis also drew an additional five-day jail sentence for contempt of court and was committed to the Brooke County jail.

Five employees of Terra Lanes were fined $100 each for the sale of alcohol. They included Helen Harris, Nila Irene Roberts and Peggy Nichols, all of East Liverpool, Iva Reed of Georgetown and Bill Roberts of McKees Rocks.

Lewis and the five employees have appealed to Circuit Court.

A Weirton woman, Angela DiBenedetto, manager of the R. and A. Lounge on Pennsylvania Ave., Weirton, also was bound over to the next term of Grand Jury and placed under $500 bond for contributing to the delinquency of minors. She was fined an additional $200 and costs and given a 10-day jail sentence for the possession of alcohol on licensed beer premises.

The commissioners have received no reply concerning Gard's application to the Chicago office, although the September extension expired yesterday.

Allocated in February 1967, the federal grant is being held up until litigation surrounding the project is resolved to HUD's satisfaction.

St. Clair opponents of the project, reversed in every legal move, have kept it in court ever since the county commissioners' July 1967 resolution to proceed with construction.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court last month sustained the county commissioners' motion to dismiss the opponents' injunction action filed last April.

Alexander and Savinell of Steubenville, counsel for the opponents, appealed from Judge Buzzard's decision to the Seventh District Court of Appeals. They filed their notice on the eve of the expiration of the 20-day appeal period.

County commissioners are hopeful, but have no assurance as yet, the appeal can be heard when the tribunal visits Columbiana County Dec. 9.

Two Treated After Mishap

Two area youths were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in a one - car accident at 3:40 p. m. Friday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Byron W. Merwin Jr., 17, of RD 3, Christian Pl., was driving a 1964 coach just south of the Route 30 entrance ramp on Route 267 when he lost control and the car went off the right side of the road, came back on the road, went off the left side and struck an embankment.

He was treated for contusions of the head.

William Michael Newbold, 17, son of Carl E. Newbold of Glenmoor, a passenger in the auto, was treated for a possible pelvic injury and released. Newbold told hospital authorities he was thrown from the car.

An East Liverpool area man was the victim of two accidents on Route 267, about a mile and a half south of Route 30 Friday night at 11:15.

In the first, Joseph S. Alois of 200 Malvern St., failed to stop his westbound 1964 sedan as he approached the intersection of Route 267 and Cannons Mills Rd., and his auto struck the side of a 1965 coach operated by William S. Shinton, 36, of Lisbon St.

At the scene, approximately 20 minutes later, the disabled Shinton car was struck in the rear by a 1967 convertible operated by Sue Ann McKenna, 21, of John St.

Donald Talbert, son of Basil Talbert of Hammondsburg, a contusion of the right hand when it was stepped on at school; Bryan Dawson, son of Sherald Dawson of Hollywood Dr., a contusion of the left arm in a wringer.

The group will hold board meetings a half hour prior to the regular meetings starting in December. Separate meetings were held before.

Mrs. Arthur Bloor, finance chairman, said the club will hold "white elephant" sale in the near future.

The board also approved the Title I program for the summer of 1969.

Other business included the acceptance of a proposal from the Industrial Appraisal Co. of Pittsburgh to appraise all property and equipment in the Edison Local District for insurance purposes.

The board members accepted an invitation from the Ohio Valley Gas Co. to attend a banquet at the East Liverpool Country Club Dec. 12.

Red Troubles To Get Airing

The upcoming conference by representatives of 58 Communist parties in Budapest to discuss a proposed Red summit meeting will be a guide to the depth of internal Red schisms regardless of its conclusions.

The Nov. 17 meeting in Hungary is all that has been salvaged of a scheduled Nov. 25 world conference in Moscow that was destroyed when troops of the Soviet Union and four satellites invaded Czechoslovakia Aug. 20-21.

A hurry-up meeting up representatives of 58 of the 90 world Communist parties was held last month to discuss the Nov. 25 parley.

AWARE OF THE BITTERNESS of Western European Communist parties over the Czech invasion, the representatives agreed to defer the Nov. 25 meeting and get together Nov. 17 to formulate future plans.

If next week's meeting produces an agreement for a summit conference, it would appear Moscow feels unity is possible and is willing to take a chance on the embarrassment that could develop from a boycott by angry parties.

The more likely outcome of the meeting is to drop plans for a world conference for the time being. Such a result would be a direct rebuff to the Chinese have done."

Russia has been trying to become the kingpin among Communists and force Red China out of the picture ever since the purge of Khrushchev in 1964.

Internal strife in the Communist family is at an all-time high.

No Peking-Moscow accord is in sight and much restlessness is developing in both East and West Communist parties over Russian authoritarianism and preoccupation with militarism.

Harry Schwartz, a recognized authority on Russia, said recently:

"MOSCOW'S REFUSAL to relent on its attitude toward Czechoslovakia has intensified the crisis in what was formerly the pro-Soviet majority of the Communist movement. The dissenting Western Europeans are now faced with the choice of retreating from their present position and accepting the Czechoslovakia fait accompli, or of intensifying their dispute with Moscow and even breaking with the Kremlin as the Chinese have done."

The Nov. 17 talks will give the rest of the world some clue about what to expect from the Red movement in the near future.

On The Brink

Here is a "war report" that all can appreciate.

Medicine is on the brink of a major advancement in treatment of virus diseases.

Word of research progress on a new method of treating virus infections comes from the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

The institute reports experiments with animals has turned up evidence that the body can be stimulated to produce larger than normal amounts of an antiviral substance called interferon.

Medicine has no drug at this time that is effective against a wide range of virus diseases. New developments in the interferon area carry the potential of treatment for virus-caused diseases ranging from the common cold to inflammation of the brain.

Experiments so far show success in curing rabbits infected with a virus that could lead to blindness.

The next step will be testing the method on a serious virus disease of man which there is no known cure.

If successful, medicine will record another major triumph in its endless war against the miseries of mankind.

Reprise Granted Everglades

Thanks to last summer's unusually heavy rainfall, the flora and fauna of the Florida Everglades have been granted a death-row reprieve. Hopes are high the new lease on life will be permanent.

The fate of the Everglades has been controlled through the years by a curious combination of the best and worst sides of nature and man.

MAN'S GREED for land and water has upset the natural balance in the 1.5-million acre wilderness. Years of drought threatened to destroy all the wildlife in the Everglades National Park.

Man-made reservoirs held back water that meant life or death to inhabitants until the rains came. Now the flow from the reservoirs is steady — it has been since June.

Men concerned with the park and its wildlife have worked out a plan of Central and South Florida Flood Control District reservoirs that hopefully will provide enough water for the Everglades and farmers at its northern edge.

How much permanent damage was done by the long drought is unknown. But there are happy reports that life is abundant again in the land of saw grass marshes, prairies and sloughs of the big swamp.

HAPPINESS TO FRIENDS of the Everglades is knowing egrets and beautiful roseate spoonbills, once nearly wiped out by hunters seeking plumes for the millinery industry, are re-establishing themselves in the famous aviary.

Good Show, Eh What?

Scotland Yard has lived up to its impeccable reputation for getting its man — even if it did take five years.

Last week, Scotland Yard men arrested the last of the 12 men who pulled off the world's biggest train robbery Aug. 8, 1963.

All other members of the band that robbed the London-to-Glasgow royal mail train of $7.3 million have been convicted. One is free after escaping from prison a year ago.

No one is betting on how long the escapee's freedom will last because the search for the

It isn't necessary to be an expert to appreciate the Everglades.

Many park visitors don't know a gumbo limbo tree from a strangler fig or an ibis from a frigate bird, but they feel a unique kinship with the wild section of Florida.

If it is true — and we hope it is — that lack of water will not threaten the primitive area again, it is welcome news for all nature lovers.

A Reminder

Television had another fine hour Wednesday night with the presentation of ABC's "The Sense of Wonder."

Descriptive and thought-provoking words by the late Rachel Carson, narration by Helen Hayes and tip-top photography were prime ingredients of the short hour.

Much time was artfully devoted to the familiar but still little-known creature of the sea, the barnacle.

During the barnacle sequence, Miss Carson admonishes: "We should allow ourselves to be curious about things so small that they are easy to overlook."

The message the program offered came in these words of Miss Carson: "Man must not be permitted to destroy our environment. Nor must he be a slave to it. A balance must be struck."

The glimpses of nature provided by "The Sense of Wonder" reminded the viewer that the balance is worth striking.

Priority Of Service

Interestingly enough, a study conducted for the U.S. Department of Transportation reveals free public transportation would not be effective in getting convenience-minded Americans out of their cars and into buses.

At least it wouldn't be effective enough nationwide to make a free-fare program advisable.

Users and potential users of public transportation put better service at the top of their list of steps that should be taken to make the system more attractive to riders.

A better pick up and distribution program and speedier service were both placed ahead of the question of fare by riders.

The survey, taken in the Boston area, said

eliminating—or increasing—fares would have relatively little effect on the number of public transit customers.

The report suggested existing systems could be improved by expansion of service to wider areas, use of express buses to cut down time on long routes and improved scheduling.

The survey was ordered by the transportation department to determine the feasibility of a federal program to provide free public transportation through subsidy.

The estimated cost of $2 billion a year for such a program at the present level of operation and the indication it would not pull a significant number of new customers rule it out as a solution to the public transportation problem.

There was more to this speech. But the rest does not actually qualify these startling sentiments.

Thoughts For The Day

Little progress can be made by merely attempting to repress what is evil; our great hope lies in developing what is good. — Calvin Coolidge, 30th U.S. president.

From the errors of others a wise man corrects his own.—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, German poet.

"The fewer words the better prayer."—Martin Luther.

Wisdom builds her house, but folly with her own hands tears it down.—Proverbs 14:1.

The Flapping Left Wing

NEW YORK — Apparently the old new left no longer is taking Richard Milhous Nixon as a personal insult.

From now on, the President-elect can have a voice in the village (Bohemia here) anytime he wishes. His success has gone to the heads of many a fire-eating intellectual. They are eager to work with the White House — if not actually in it. For that they can wait a few months.

Leading all the others is that professional prodigy, that brash genius on the political flying trapeze, Richard Goodwin, confidant of Senator Gene McCarthy.

It's a long trail which the acid-tongued Mr. Goodwin has traveled. After Harvard Law School, he assisted the late Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, President John F. Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, President Lyndon Johnson, Senator Bob Kennedy, and, in the heat of this past summer — that political laureate, Gene McCarthy.

It was Goodwin who brought the Kennedy brother-in-law Steve Smith to McCarthy's 23rd floor Chicago Hilton suite on the afternoon of August 27, so the three of them could discuss McCarthy's offer to throw his votes to Ted Kennedy in the presidential nomination battle.

Red Troubles To Get Airing

The upcoming conference by representatives of 58 Communist parties in Budapest to discuss a proposed Red summit meeting will be a guide to the depth of internal Red schisms regardless of its conclusions.

The Nov. 17 meeting in Hungary is all that has been salvaged of a scheduled Nov. 25 world conference in Moscow that was destroyed when troops of the Soviet Union and four satellites invaded Czechoslovakia Aug. 20-21.

A hurry-up meeting up representatives of 58 of the 90 world Communist parties was held last month to discuss the Nov. 25 parley.

AWARE OF THE BITTERNESS of Western European Communist parties over the Czech invasion, the representatives agreed to defer the Nov. 25 meeting and get together Nov. 17 to formulate future plans.

If next week's meeting produces an agreement for a summit conference, it would appear Moscow feels unity is possible and is willing to take a chance on the embarrassment that could develop from a boycott by angry parties.

The more likely outcome of the meeting is to drop plans for a world conference for the time being. Such a result would be a direct rebuff to the Soviet Union's attempt to reassert its supremacy.

Russia has been trying to become the kingpin among Communists and force Red China out of the picture ever since the purge of Khrushchev in 1964.

Internal strife in the Communist family is at an all-time high.

No Peking-Moscow accord is in sight and much restlessness is developing in both East and West Communist parties over Russian authoritarianism and preoccupation with militarism.

Harry Schwartz, a recognized authority on Russia, said recently:

"MOSCOW'S REFUSAL to relent on its attitude toward Czechoslovakia has intensified the crisis in what was formerly the pro-Soviet majority of the Communist movement. The dissenting Western Europeans are now faced with the choice of retreating from their present position and accepting the Czechoslovakia fait accompli, or of intensifying their dispute with Moscow and even breaking with the Kremlin as the Chinese have done."

The Nov. 17 talks will give the rest of the world some clue about what to expect from the Red movement in the near future.

On The Brink

Here is a "war report" that all can appreciate.

Medicine is on the brink of a major advancement in treatment of virus diseases.

Word of research progress on a new method of treating virus infections comes from the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

The institute reports experiments with animals has turned up evidence that the body can be stimulated to produce larger than normal amounts of an antiviral substance called interferon.

Medicine has no drug at this time that is effective against a wide range of virus diseases. New developments in the interferon area carry the potential of treatment for virus-caused diseases ranging from the common cold to inflammation of the brain.

Experiments so far show success in curing rabbits infected with a virus that could lead to blindness.

The next step will be testing the method on a serious virus disease of man who which there is no known cure.

If successful, medicine will record another major triumph in its endless war against the miseries of mankind.

Reprise Granted Everglades

Thanks to last summer's unusually heavy rainfall, the flora and fauna of the Florida Everglades have been granted a death-row reprieve. Hopes are high the new lease on life will be permanent.

The fate of the Everglades has been controlled through the years by a curious combination of the best and worst sides of nature and man.

MAN'S GREED for land and water has upset the natural balance in the 1.5-million acre wilderness. Years of drought threatened to destroy all the wildlife in the Everglades National Park.

Man-made reservoirs held back water that meant life or death to inhabitants until the rains came. Now the flow from the reservoirs is steady — it has been since June.

Men concerned with the park and its wildlife have worked out a plan of Central and South Florida Flood Control District reservoirs that hopefully will provide enough water for the Everglades and farmers at its northern edge.

How much permanent damage was done by the long drought is unknown. But there are happy reports that life is abundant again in the land of saw grass marshes, prairies and sloughs of the big swamp.

HAPPINESS TO FRIENDS of the Everglade is knowing egrets and beautiful roseate spoonbills, once nearly wiped out by hunters seeking plumes for the millinery industry, are re-establishing themselves in the famous aviary.

A Reminder

Television had another fine hour Wednesday night with the presentation of ABC's "The Sense of Wonder."

Descriptive and thought-provoking words by the late Rachel Carson, narration by Helen Hayes and tip-top photography were prime ingredients of the short hour.

Much time was artfully devoted to the familiar but still little-known creature of the sea, the barnacle.

During the barnacle sequence, Miss Carson admonishes: "We should allow ourselves to be curious about things so small that they are easy to overlook."

The message the program offered came in these words of Miss Carson: "Man must not be permitted to destroy our environment. Nor must he be a slave to it. A balance must be struck."

The glimpses of nature provided by "The Sense of Wonder" reminded the viewer that the balance is worth striking.

Good Show, Eh What?

Scotland Yard has lived up to its impeccable reputation for getting its man — even if it did take five years.

Last week, Scotland Yard men arrested the last of the 12 men who pulled off the world's biggest train robbery Aug. 8, 1963.

All other members of the band that robbed the London-to-Glasgow royal mail train of $7.3 million have been convicted. One is free after escaping from prison a year ago.

No one is betting on how long the escapee's freedom will last because the search for the last member of the gang took police to the French Riviera, Italy and North Africa.

One other escapee who fled prison life in August of 1964 was recaptured last January in Canada.

Capture of the last robber is especially rewarding to Detective Supt. Tommy Butler who refused to retire until all the men were behind bars.

Although most of the loot has not been recovered, a tip of the teacup is in order from Scotland Yard eh, what?

Priority Of Service

Interestingly enough, a study conducted for the U.S. Department of Transportation reveals free public transportation would not be effective in getting convenience-minded Americans out of their cars and into buses.

At least it wouldn't be effective enough nationwide to make a free-fare program advisable.

Users and potential users of public transportation put better service at the top of their list of steps that should be taken to make the system more attractive to riders.

A better pick up and distribution program and speedier service were both placed ahead of the question of fare by riders.

The survey, taken in the Boston area, said

eliminating—or increasing—fares would have relatively little effect on the number of public transit customers.

The report suggested existing systems could be improved by expansion of service to wider areas, use of express buses to cut down time on long routes and improved scheduling.

The survey was ordered by the transportation department to determine the feasibility of a federal program to provide free public transportation through subsidy.

The estimated cost of $2 billion a year for such a program at the present level of operation and the indication it would not pull a significant number of new customers, rule it out as a solution to the public transportation problem.

Thoughts For The Day

Let not your heart envy sinners, but continue in the fear of the Lord all the day.—Proverbs 23:17.

Opportunity rarely knocks until you are ready. And few people have ever been really ready without receiving opportunity's call.—Channing Pollock, American playwright.

Wisdom builds her house, but folly with her own hands tears it down.—Proverbs 14:1.

NEW YORK — Apparently the old new left no longer is taking Richard Milhous Nixon as a personal insult.

From now on, the President-elect can have a voice in the village (Bohemia here) anytime he wishes. His success has gone to the heads of many a fire-eating intellectual. They are eager to work with the White House — if not actually in it. For that they can wait a few months.

Leading all the others is that professional prodigy, that brainy genius on the political flying trapeze, Richard Goodwin, confidant of Senator Gene McCarthy.

It's a long trail which the acid-tongued Mr. Goodwin has traveled. After Harvard Law School, he assisted the late Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, President John F. Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, President Lyndon Johnson, Senator Bob Kennedy, and, in the heat of this past summer — that political laureate, Gene McCarthy.

It was Goodwin who brought the Kennedy brother-in-law Steve Smith to McCarthy's 23rd floor Chicago Hilton suite on the afternoon of August 27, so the three of them could discuss McCarthy's offer to throw his votes to Ted Kennedy in the presidential nomination battle.

Open House Set In Conjunction With PTA Event

The meeting of the Chester Primary Parent-Teacher Association Monday at 7:30 p.m. will be preceded with a half-hour open house session.

Mrs. Jack Wilson is PTA president.

Principal Thayer Allison urged parents to view the work accomplished by the pupils but said conferences with the teachers at the time would not be advisable.

There will be no classes Tuesday, with Conference Day to be held all day, offering parents an opportunity to confer with teachers.

Allison suggested that interested parents call to make an appointment or send a note to the school.

Since 1837, it has been forbidden for members to wear hats on the floor of Congress.

Diocese Sets Bishop Drive For Clothing

The 20th annual bishops' clothing drive will be held in the Catholic Diocese of Youngstown Sunday through Saturday.

Every Catholic church in the diocese will accept usable clothing, shoes and bedding during this week and send it to Catholic Relief Services, the overseas agency of American Bishops.

In a letter to be read at all the Masses Sunday, the Most Rev. James W. Malone, Bishop of Youngstown, will urge all to participate in the drive by bringing a bundle of used but usable clothing, blankets, bed linens and shoes to the nearest Catholic Church.

The bishop says: "We have in this Thanksgiving a special opportunity to show our gratitude for God's blessings by sharing them in some small way with His suffering children. We need such opportunities just as they need our help."

Last year, the Youngstown Diocese contributed 60,000 pounds of clothing. This year the need is even greater, because of the war in Vietnam and the conflict in Biafra.

For many thousands of people in the 70 countries of the world in dire need, the clothing they receive from the bishops' annual drive, are the only clothes they have. This gift of clothes can mean that a man can continue to work or a child attend school.

Rev. Browne To Speak At Trinity's Services

The Rev. G. Chalmers Browne of Recife, Brazil, former pastor at the Salineville Presbyterian Church, will speak for the women's thanksgiving service Sunday during the 8 and 11 a.m. services at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

He is the only minister in the Steubenville Presbytery who is serving as a missionary. His topic will be "The Harvest Is Great."

Rev. Browne, who was appointed in 1943 by the former Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A., is assisting in the adult literacy program for the Evangelical Confederation of Brazil. He is the son of the Presbyterian missionaries who served in China, where he spent his early life.

Upon graduation in 1937 from the College of Wooster, Rev. Browne went to Princeton (N.J.) Theological Seminary. Graduating in 1940, he then married the former Pauline Landes, after which he went to the Salineville charge, serving for four years. The Browns were then assigned to China until 1950 when they were transferred to Brazil. In 1960 he became director of the Evangelical School at Buriti, Brazil.

During 1962-63, the Browns studied in the field of literacy and literature. After serving in the Crusade of Basic Christian Action.

Women of the church participating in the service are Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Mrs. H. James Allison and Mrs. Robert Lucas. A special thanksgiving will be received.

Displays Are Set For 'Book Week' At City Library

Special displays and films are planned by the Carnegie Public Library in observance of "National Book Week," which will begin Monday.

Mrs. Beatrice Davidson, librarian, said the public is invited to visit the library to view the facilities, which include some 100,000 volumes, along with magazines, references, free records for withdrawal, and films. About 3,200 new books are added annually.

Children's movies will be screened Monday through Friday.

Theme for the observance this year is "Go Places With Books."

The East Liverpool Historical Society Museum is located on the second floor.

Since 1837, it has been forbidden for members to wear hats on the floor of Congress.

Diocese Sets Bishop Drive For Clothing

The 20th annual bishops' clothing drive will be held in the Catholic Diocese of Youngstown Sunday through Saturday.

Every Catholic church in the diocese will accept usable clothing, shoes and bedding during this week and send it to Catholic Relief Services, the overseas agency of American Bishops.

In a letter to be read at all the Masses Sunday, the Most Rev. James W. Malone, Bishop of Youngstown, will urge all to participate in the drive by bringing a bundle of used but usable clothing, blankets, bedding and shoes to the nearest Catholic Church.

The bishop says: "We have in this Thanksgiving a special opportunity to show our gratitude for God's blessings by sharing them in some small way with His suffering children. We need such opportunities just as they need our help."

Last year, the Youngstown Diocese contributed 60,000 pounds of clothing. This year the need is even greater, because of the war in Vietnam and the conflict in Biafra.

For many thousands of people in the 70 countries of the world in dire need, the clothing they receive from the bishops' annual drive are the only clothes they have. This gift of clothes can mean that a man can continue to work or a child attend school.

Familiar hymns and gospel songs will be featured during the service of organ music at 3 p.m.

The Rev. A. R. Grafton is minister and the Rev. W. M. Brown is associate minister. The public is invited.

Rev. Browne To Speak At Trinity's Services

The Rev. G. Chalmers Browne of Recife, Brazil, former pastor at the Salineville Presbyterian Church, will speak for the women's thanksgiving service Sunday during the 8 and 11 a.m. services at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

He is the only minister in the Steubenville Presbyterian who is serving as a missionary. His topic will be "The Harvest Is Great."

Rev. Browne, who was appointed in 1943 by the former Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., is assisting in the adult literacy program for the Evangelical Confederation of Brazil. He is the son of Presbyterian missionaries who served in China, where he spent his early life.

Upon graduation in 1937 from the College of Wooster, Rev. Browne went to Princeton (N.J.) Theological Seminary. Graduating in 1940, he then married the former Pauline Landes, after which he went to the Salineville charge, serving for four years. The Browns were then assigned to China until 1950 when they were transferred to Brazil. In 1960 he became director of the Evangelical School at Buriti, Brazil.

During 1962-63, the Browns studied in the field of literacy and literature. After serving in the regional office of the literacy program of the Evangelical Confederation of Brazil from 1963-65, they moved to Recife to become technical consultants to the Crusade of Basic Christian Action.

Women of the church participating in the service are Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Mrs. H. James Allison and Mrs. Robert Lucas. A special thanksgiving will be received.

Events Set In Churches Of District

The Rev. David Podmore of Geneva, Ohio, will be the worker during the 7:30 p. m. services Sunday at the First Spiritualist Church and Mrs. Stella Rowley of East Liverpool will be the worker Monday at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Robert Vaughn Mathias of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary will speak during 11 a. m. worship Sunday at the Newell United Presbyterian Church.

A film, "Vietnam Profile," will be screened Sunday at 7 p. m. at the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church. The 80-minute film is sponsored by the youth group. The offering will go to World Vision of California to be used in Vietnam for servicemen and civilians. The public is invited.

Evangelist Melvin C. Allison will hold public services at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of Midland View Monday through Nov. 24 at 7:30 nightly. The Rev. Michael Mosura is pastor.

Those participating will include Fred Kane, Arthur Lee Roberts, Robert Mattern, Lee White, Harold Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jackson, Mary Compa Staib and Gary Stewart. Groups will consist of the Youth Choir of the Second Baptist Church, a combo from the Salvation Army, and the host choir.

The choir of Lee's Chapel AME Church of Wellsville will observe its 21st anniversary Sunday with programs at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. Choirs from Beaver Falls, Midland, East Liverpool and Youngstown will participate. Mrs. Lillie Boggs, president of the choir, is in charge. Rev. C. A. Burgan is the pastor.

The monthly singspiration will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Salvation Army, with the public invited to participate.

The theme, "Looking Upward," will be presented by Doug Sanford, Jackie Salisbury and Cindy Croyle at the meeting of the NYSF of the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday at 6 p. m. Miss Croyle will be in charge of the Nazarene Youth hour. Vocal selections will be featured.

The Rev. Howard W. Hill is pastor.

Visit To The Past

By NORMA JEAN LIBERATORE

Any Wednesday afternoon you can take a trip into Beaver County's past by way of a visit to the Mill Creek Historical Society museum room located in the Library Building at Penn State University's Monaca campus.

The room is open to visitors from 2-4 p.m. when attendants will answer questions and assist. Appointments may also be made for special visits.

The recently opened room has a vintage air, even to the walls and show cases which are made of wood taken from a 120-year-old barn on the Hartenbach farm near the campus.

No special treatment was given to the wood, and it has been utilized effectively with the original pegs used in many places. The wood was removed from the barn and replaced in the room by members of the society, donating their time and labor.

Frank Kelsey, Clyde Piquet, Daniel Wilson, Ben Wilson, E. W. Devitt, Herold Smith, Alex Morrow, Robert Christy, James Robb, Norman Littell and Clifford Smith, president of the society, did the work.

SOME OF THE old wood was used by Littell to make a replica of the old Mill Creek Church. The church was reportedly built without doors or windows for protection from Indians. Entrance was gained through an underground passage. The only opening was a lookout in the roof. Piquet constructed the base for the model church.

A fireplace of bricks taken from the 118-year-old home of the McHaffey family near the campus was built by Ben Williams, a retired contractor. It is enhanced with old pots, toasters, waffle irons and other period items loaned by members. Showcases are also stocked with documents and papers of members.

From time to time the exhibits will be changed. Plans call for different sections of the South Side — Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport and other areas — to display artifacts and documents of their local history. Displays will also be shown by specific collectors.

EVERY DEED, journal, diary, letter and the many items used are carefully investigated to determine their worth by a committee of the society. If accepted, multiple records are made to insure the identification of the donor. He in turn receives a copy of the same record to be filed with family papers.

Any pamphlet or paper is valuable as a possible clue to what has happened on the Ohio River frontier before our time.

In one showcase there is a pistol taken from a murderer by the first sheriff of Beaver County, a German Bible dating back to 1730, a store record from Frankfort Springs which belongs to descendants of Miles Standish, and a David Dungan account book which belongs to the Levi Dungan and George Baker families.

The society's prime focus is for the South Side, but its interests extend into the county and state, for history is interrelated.

The society was started by Members meet the second Wednesday of the month at the home of their secretary, Mrs. Grace Wilson. Other officers are Alex Morrow, vice president; Mary Thompson, treasurer, and Piquet, program chairman.

The atmosphere of pioneer life in Beaver County is reflected in a musket, spinning wheel and cooking utensils in the fireplace of the Mill Creek Historical Society museum room at Pennsylvania State University's Monaca campus.

A painting of the Hartenbach barn from which wood was obtained for the museum room hangs on one wall.

Showcases and walls are made from wood of the 120-year-old Hartenbach barn which was located near the Penn State Monaca campus.

You And The Law

Federal income tax regulations permit taxpayers to claim deductions for certain medical expenses.

Even though you may not be expecting a large enough amount of medical bills over the year to make such a claim, it is generally wise to keep track of medical expenses. Who knows when that medical bill might come—and at income tax time you will have all the records you needed.

Everything "medical" cannot generally be claimed as a deduction. For instance, toothpaste or a diaper service have a health or implied medical aspect, but are usually not deductible items.

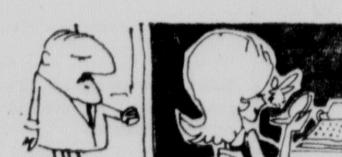

IN ANOTHER instance, however, a taxpayer was permitted a deduction on money spent in travel to and from meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous. A doctor had recommended the person join the organization and the courts ruled that membership was necessary for treatment of a disease.

In some instances, a trip to a different climate may be deductible. However, one deduction for such a trip "to give my morale a lift" was denied. The courts ruled that the tax laws couldn't be used to subsidize a vacation merely to make a taxpayer more cheerful.

CHOIR WILL LOOK SHARP — This year Midland's Lincoln High choir robes are being altered to six inches from the ground with sleeves to thumb-length. Fred Martell, instructor, said it will be a great improvement over the hodge-podge lengths of former years. . . . DISAPPOINTED BAND — Two football games before the final one the band was not able to perform a half-time show because of rain. However, that last game (with Freedom) made up for the others with a beautiful fulfills featuring the Junior High majorettes.

NEW MONIKER? — Debbie Habenicht was chosen "Daisy Mae" during the Sadie Hawkins dance last Saturday at East Liverpool High. Tom Emmerling was her "Lil' Aper." . . .

The Younger Set

WHEN THE SHIP(MENT) COMES IN — The entire student body will be selling candy bars soon. . . . THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIES — The cheerleaders for the basketball team are getting new outfits. . . . THE STRAW THAT BROKE THE CAMEL'S BACK — Why are there no more straws distributed at lunch time?

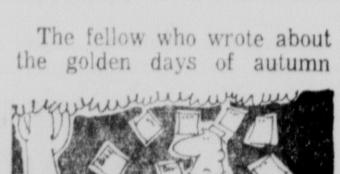

DOES YOUR HAIR DO WHAT THEIR'S DO? — Y-Teens at Wellsville were treated to a program on hairstyling by a local beautician recently. . . . LIVERPOOL'S MISSING STRAWS? — Junior guys have a new weapon — shooting licorice through coke straws! Could those be the "missing" straws from Liverpool? . . . THE PLAY'S THE THING — The junior play is nearly ready for production. The set was finished this week. Sneak previews were presented to the Lady Elks and the Ceramic Playrites. Opening night is Thursday.

TEEN DOLLAR POWER — Almost 13 million teen girls spend $620 million on cosmetics and toiletries. Only 12 per cent of total population, they are responsible for 25 per cent of total cosmetic purchases.

UNSTUFFY STUFFINGS — Stuffed animals gain momentum. Big with the not-so-little set. Big status item is to collect a "zoo." Pink elephants, purple bulls and bulldogs and teddy bears with turtle-neck sweaters are among the in beasts. Nation-wide menagerie-minding is major with high school and off-to-college set.

PROMISES, PROMISES — The deafening silence of politicians on the subject of "Vote at 18" continues to be deafening. Red tape and red herring methods deny a voting voice to a well-informed segment of the U.S. population. Few politicians will admit being against the vote at 18. Even fewer do anything about the problem. They continue to tsk tsk at the political activists on college campuses and now in high schools as well. Tsk tsk yourselves, aging lawmakers!

The fellow who wrote about the golden days of autumn

must have had school tuition bills in mind.

No, Gwendolyn, they don't hold stag parties at the zoo for deer friends.

The nicest thing about a sound insulated recreation room is that you can't hear the yak-yak upstairs.

If fewer in-laws behaved like outlaws, there'd be more harmony in many families.

An interesting feature of the room is a "Shaker desk." The Shakers were known for their simplicity in furniture.

These historic items must be saved at all costs, society members declare. Recently a museum official stated, "I am often called to a home during the disposal of an estate. I arrive to find burning on a heap in a side yard, items of more value than all the remaining contents of the house."

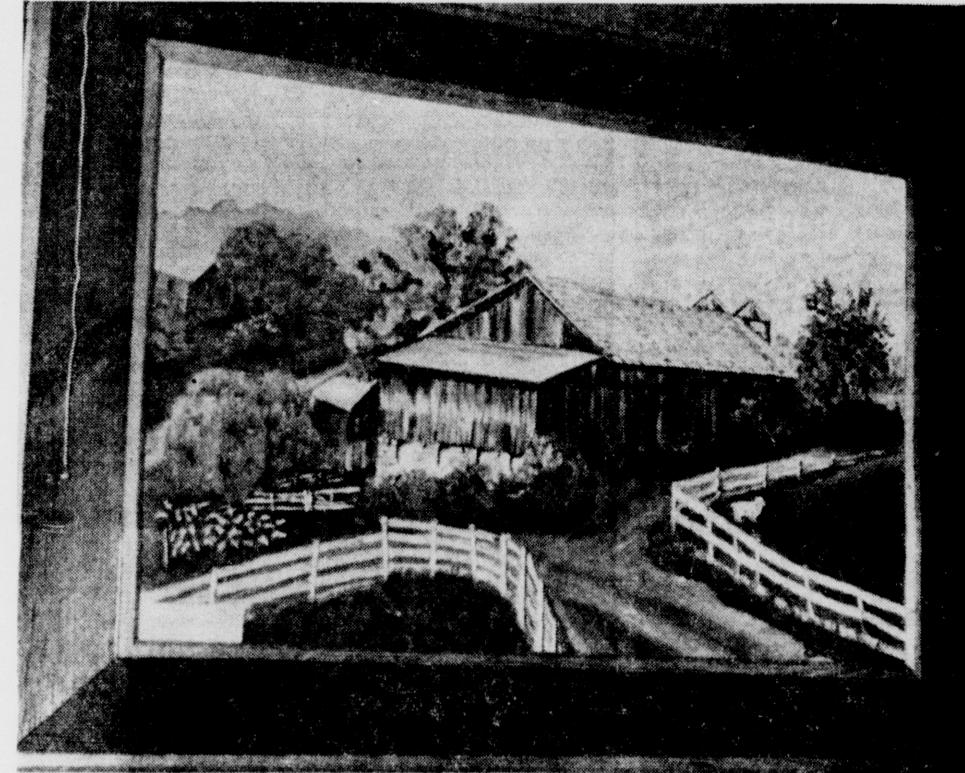

The museum has drawn much attention with tours taken by many groups, including students and faculty of the university.

The group displayed pioneer articles at the Hookstown Fair this summer. Tours of the Ohio River were also sponsored by the society.

Members meet the second Wednesday of the month at the home of their secretary, Mrs. Grace Wilson. Other officers are Alex Morrow, vice president; Mary Thompson, treasurer, and Piquet, program chairman.

The atmosphere of pioneer life in Beaver County is reflected in a musket, spinning wheel and cooking utensils in the fireplace of the Mill Creek Historical Society museum room at Pennsylvania State University's Monaca campus.

A painting of the Hartenbach barn from which wood was obtained for the museum room hangs on one wall.

Showcases and walls are made from wood of the 120-year-old Hartenbach barn which was located near the Penn State Monaca campus.

You And The Law

Federal income tax regulations permit taxpayers to claim deductions for certain medical expenses.

Even though you may not be expecting a large enough amount of medical bills over the year to make such a claim, it is generally wise to keep track of medical expenses who knows when that medical bill might come—and at income tax time you would have all the records you needed.

Everything "medical" cannot generally be claimed as a deduction. For instance, toothpaste or a diaper service have a health or implied medical aspect, but are usually not deductible items.

IN ANOTHER instance, however, a taxpayer was permitted a deduction on money spent in travel to and from meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous. A doctor had recommended the person join the organization and the courts ruled that membership was necessary for treatment of a disease.

In some instances, a trip to a different climate may be deductible. However, one deduction for such a trip "to give my morale a lift" was denied. The courts ruled that the tax laws couldn't be used to subsidize a vacation merely to make a taxpayer more cheerful.

THE PRINTED WORD — At Beaver Local High, the Business Office Experience Class is printing the school newspaper, "Beaver Tales." With the help of Gary Williams, faculty adviser, 12 senior girls are involved: Nancy Peters, chief; Betti Bryan, assistant chief; Patty Seavers, typing editor; Karen McCoy and Bobbi Bryan, copy editors; Charlotte Suffolk and Debbie Barnhouse, layout; Bertha Porter and Sue Forrester, machine operators; Sandy Cunningham and Linda Huff, proofreaders; and Sherrill Cramer, artist.

CHOIR WILL LOOK SHARP — This year Midland's Lincoln High choir robes are being altered to six inches from the ground with sleeves to thumb-length. Fred Martell, instructor, said it will be a great improvement over the hedge-padge lengths of former years.

DISAPPOINTED BAND — Two football games before the final one the band was not able to perform a half-time show because of rain. However, that last game (with Freedom) made up for the others with a a beautiful half-time show.

NEW MONIKER? — Debbie Habenicht was chosen "Daisy Mae" during the Sadie Hawkins dance last Saturday at East Liverpool High. Tom Emmerling was her "Lil' Aper."

The Younger Set

WHEN THE SHIP(MENT) COMES IN — The entire student body will be selling candy bars soon. . . . THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIES — The cheerleaders for the basketball team are getting new outfits. . . . THE STRAW THAT BROKE THE CAMEL'S BACK — Why are there no more straws distributed at lunch time?

DOES YOUR HAIR DO WHAT THEIR'S DO? — Y-Teens at Wellsville were treated to a program on hairstyling by a local beautician recently. . . . LIVERPOOL'S MISSING STRAWS? — Junior guys have a new weapon — shooting licorice through coke straws! Could those be the 'missing' straws from Liverpool? . . . "THE PLAY'S THE THING" — The junior play is nearly ready for production. The set was finished this week. Sneak previews were presented to the Lady Elks and the Ceramic Playrites. Opening night is Thursday.

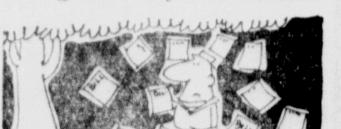

TEEN DOLLAR POWER — Almost 13 million teen girls spend $620 million on cosmetics and toiletries. Only 12 per cent of total population, they are responsible for 25 per cent of total cosmetic purchases.

UNSTUFFY STUFFINGS — Stuffed animals gain momentum. Big with the not-so-little set. Big status item is to collect a "zoo." Pink elephants, purple bulls and bulldogs and teddy bears with turtle-necks sweaters are among the in beasts. Nationwide menagerie-minding is major with high school and off-to-college set.

PROMISES, PROMISES — The deafening silence of politicians on the subject of "Vote at 18" continues to be deafening. Red tape and red herring methods deny a voting voice to a well-informed segment of the U.S. population. Few politicians will admit being against the vote at 18. Even fewer do anything about the problem. They continue to tsk tsk at the political activists on college campuses and now in high schools as well. Tsk tsk yours'elves, aging lawmakers!

BARBS

The fellow who wrote about the golden days of autumn

must have had school tuition bills in mind.

No, Gwendolyn, they don't hold stag parties at the zoo for deer friends.

The nicest thing about a sound - insulated recreation room is that you can't hear the yak-yak upstairs.

If fewer in-laws behaved like outlaws, there'd be more harmony in many families.

The next time you knock a television show, consider how great (?) it would have been if you had written the script.

In this office, an executive is anyone who doesn't have to change his own typewriter ribbon.

Too many people who wait for their ship to come in forgot one little detail — the launching.

HUNDREDS OF HUNTERS TOOK TO THE FIELDS in Ohio today in search of rabbits — the nimrod's favorite game.

The season opened Friday and from all indications, everyone who was lucky enough not to have to work managed to bring home game.

Yesterday wasn't the best of days to hunt, but the ground was wet, providing good working conditions for the hounds. The season didn't open until 9 a.m. and as usual, there were some hunters who took to the fields early — much to the disgust of their fellow sportsmen.

When the dogs started sounding on the trail of a bunny and the smokepots started belching, spirits ran high. There certainly is no question about it, rabbit hunting ranks first in the nation. This is probably because the cottontail is our most bountiful game — and besides is very good eating.

PHEASANT SEASON also was ushered in yesterday. This should be a good year in Columbiana County for the big bird.

The state plans to release 600 pheasants in the county this year. There will be 400 released at Highlandtown Wildlife Area and 200 at Zeppernick Wildlife Area at various times. One hundred quail also are to be released at Highlandtown.

Releases are planned at both areas before next Saturday ing areas in all sections of the state on peak hunting days, such as the first day, the first Saturday and Thanksgiving. Six release dates have been scheduled in areas subject to heavy hunting pressure. Four or five releases will be made on the remaining areas.

The hunting season dates are as follows:

Pheasant — Extends through Dec. 14 on private land and Jan. 25 on state public hunting areas.

Rabbit — Extends through Jan. 25.

Quail — Extends through Jan. 4 on private lands under agreement with the Department of Natural Resources, and Jan. 25 on state public hunting areas.

Hunting of all wild animals, except deer and waterfowl, is prohibited from 8 a.m. Dec. 2 through 5 p.m. Dec. 6 in Deer Zones 1, 3, and 4 and from 8 a.m. Dec. 2 through 5 p.m. Dec. 7 in Deer Zone 5.

BAD NEWS. An increase in hunting accident fatalities during the small game season has prompted Pennsylvania Game Commission officials to urge outdoorsmen to exercise extreme caution while afield.

Thus far this year there have been five fatal accidents involving small game hunters. There are still three and one-half weeks left for the regular small game season.

Last year there were four fatal accidents during the entire small game season.

No particular pattern has emerged from the five tragedies, except that in each instance careless handling of firearms was involved. Three of the victims succumbed to self-inflicted injuries.

Game Commission personnel again point out that hunter safety training will become mandatory for youths in the state next year. After September 1, 1969, no hunting license will be issued to any person under the age of 16 years unless that person has either (a) held a license in Pennsylvania or another state in a prior year, or (b) the person has successfully completed a course of instruction in the safe handling of firearms and bow and arrows.

Youths are encouraged to enroll in a hunter safety and before Thanksgiving. Hunting pressure will rapidly fall off after Thanksgiving.

NON-RESIDENT HUNTERS will be able to apply for antlerless deer licenses in Pennsylvania after today.

Non-residents seeking antlerless licenses may obtain applications from any license issuing agent — there now is one in Midland — a county treasurer, or the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The completed application and remittance should be sent to the treasurer of the county in which the sportsman plans to hunt. Only county treasurers are authorized to issue doe licenses. Applications should not be sent the Game Commission.

The cost is $1.15 and can be issued only to a holder of a current resident or non-resident hunting license. If the antlerless license is to be mailed, the remittance should include an additional 10 cents for postage.

Thirty-one counties still have antlerless licenses. They are Allegheny, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Cameron, Centre, Chester, Clearfield, Clinton, Crawford, Delaware, Elk, Erie, Fayette, Greene, Lackawanna, Lawrence, Lycoming, McKean, Mercer, Montgomery, Montour, Pike, Potter, Tioga, Union, Washington, Wayne, Wyoming and York.

Regular deer season in Pennsylvania is Dec. 2 to Dec. 14. The antlerless season is Dec. 16 and 17.

GAME OUTLOOK GOOD All indications point to a substantial increase in pheasant, rabbit and quail in Ohio. Data collected from summer surveys indicate the small game season, which opened Friday, should be one of the best in years. The rabbit population is higher than in 1967 in all sections of the state.

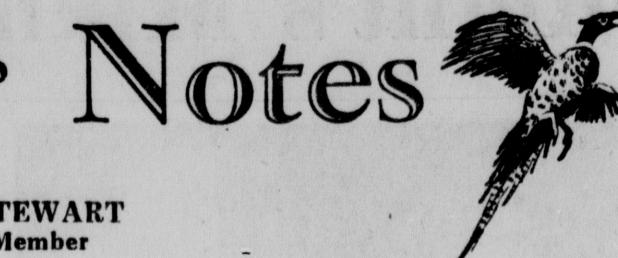

It seems that rabbits like their vegetation green and lush, and the good rainfall all summer have kept it that way. Observations of small cottontails throughout September indicated good late-summer production.

The pheasant outlook also is much improved over 1967, although still somewhat below the average of other years. The population of this highly-prized bird has increased in almost all sections within the pheasant range, particularly in the south-central and northeastern areas of Ohio in comparison with last year.

Quail populations have increased over the past year throughout Ohio. Field surveys and observations show these birds particularly numerous in the two regions to the extreme west and south.

Hunting for quail is legal on Ohio's public hunting lands, or on private lands under agreement with the Department of Natural Resources, Division of Wildlife.

To supplement the ring-neck pheasant harvest, approximately 35,000 adult birds will be released on 40 major hunt-heavy hunting pressure. Four or five releases will be made on the remaining areas.

The hunting season dates are as follows:

Pheasant — Extends through Dec. 14 on private land and Jan. 25 on state public hunting areas.

Rabbit — Extends through Jan. 25.

Quail — Extends through Jan. 4 on private lands under agreement with the Department of Natural Resources, and Jan. 25 on state public hunting areas.

Hunting of all wild animals, except deer and waterfowl, is prohibited from 8 a.m. Dec. 2 through 5 p.m. Dec. 6 in Deer Zones 1, 3, and 4 and from 8 a.m. Dec. 2 through 5 p.m. Dec. 7 in Deer Zone 5.

Youths are encouraged to enroll in a hunter safety course in their area at the earliest opportunity.

PROPER CARE OF GAME URGED. Several reports of game spoiling during warm weather this fall have been received.

Hunters are advised to handle meat properly. Otherwise, it can become tainted in a few hours.

Sportsmen should remove entrails of game immediately after killing, and the meat should be kept as cool as possible until it can be processed.

COLD WEATHER FISHING. November brings days with an edge to the wind and a bite to the night that cools the water and clears it like glass. If ever deception was called for in fooling fish, now is the time.

While visibility is at its peak, not so the metabolism of fish, say the experts. Colder water will slow down reactions of game fish, and special tactics like the following are recommended.

With greater vision, more delicate colors in lures are needed. Such patterns as gray, white, and natural scales in plugs . . . and grays, browns, and off-whites in bucktails . . . and scaled spoons rather than bright metal ones, are more deceptive.

Slower than usual retrieves, also, are in order because slower reactions need more time to trigger. According to the experts, the closer to the bottom lures are worked, the greater your chances of catching fish.

Don't overlook the effectiveness of surface lures, which look like an easy meal to a big fish. But, remember to work them slowly, tantalizingly, and over deeper holes. One granddaddy fish can make November a month to remember . . . and, he's out there waiting, right now!

When Winter comes, with snow and ice,
I think that Summertime is nice;
When Summer comes with fiery heat,
I think that Winter's hard to beat!

This is how it's been with me —
What I don't have I want, you see;
Until I've got it, then, with fire,
There are other things that I desire!

As I gaze at the wintry weather
I sometimes kind of wonder whether
It might not be wise to sell my stuff
And move to where it's warm enough . . .

A mobile home (it seems to me)
Would be the thing in which to flee;
Just drive until the climate's right,
Pull up, stop, and spend the night . . .

Trouble is — those things are big —
They require a tractor-trailer rig
To shuttle them — at least with ease . . .
From here to anywhere you please . . .

Now, I'd like a place where it's 72
Night and day, the whole year through;
No snakes, no bugs and no tornadoes
And a place out back to raise tomatoes.

In Florida it might be fun
To lie about and soak up sun;
But how about the bugs and snakes
And hurricanes, for goodness sakes?

They say it's nice in Albuquerque
For those who're limping kind of jerkys —
But when it blows to beat the band
They heard everything gets filled with sand . . .

The climate's fine (they say) but warn ya
It's hard to breathe in California;
And a lot of what you hear's bologna
About health spots in Arizona . . .

San Antone? I knew two ladies
Who say it's hot down there as Hades;
Bermuda? Hawaii? No matter which,
You can't stay unless you're rich . . .

Now, I'd like a place where it's 72
Night and day, the whole year through;
No snakes, no bugs and no tornadoes
And a place out back to raise tomatoes.

I've thought it over — and I'll tell you Clyde,
I just might light a fire and stay inside;
When Summer's heat begins to loom,
Why not air-condition the living room?

Defensive Battle Seen In Tonight's Miami-Bama Clash

Oregon St. Seeks Upset For Roses

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Four of the nation's Top Twenty teams headline an attractive afterdark schedule tonight, highlighted by the meeting of Alabama and Miami, Fla., in the Orange Bowl, first regular season college football game ever televised in prime time (ABC-TV, 8:30 p.m., EST).

The six remaining unbeaten and untied major teams go into action in the afternoon, also by ABC-TV, at 4:15 p.m., EST.

Second-ranked Ohio State visits Iowa for a Big Ten meeting and third-ranked Penn State plays at Maryland. Southern Cal, Ohio State and Penn State all sport 7-0 records.

Michigan, No. 4, hosts Wisconsin; Georgia, No. 5, is at Auburn, No. 12; sixth-ranked Missouri has a doozy at Oklahoma and seventh-ranked Kansas travels to Kansas State.

Notre Dame, ranked ninth, entertains Georgia Tech, 10th-ranked Arkansas faces Southern Methodist in Little Rock.

Ohio University has an 8-0 record but the 17th-ranked Bobcats must contain Cincinnati and Greg Cook, the second leading passer in the country.

The other unbeaten teams are Yale and Harvard, which meet Nov. 23 to decide the Ivy League title. This weekend, Yale entertains Princeton and Harvard hosts Brown.

Defensive Battle Seen In Tonight's Miami-Bama Clash

Oregon St. Seeks Upset For Roses

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four of the nation's Top Twenty teams headline an attractive afterdark schedule tonight, highlighted by the meeting of Alabama and Miami, Fla., in the Orange Bowl, first regular season college football game ever televised in prime time (ABC-TV, 8:30 p.m., EST).

The six remaining unbeaten and untied major teams go into action in the afternoon but the slate of seven night contests promises plenty of offensive fireworks featuring such stars as Chris Gilbert of Texas, Houston's Paul Gipson, Brooks Dawson of Texas-El Paso, North Texas State's Steve Ramsey and Tommy Pham of Mississippi State.

Despite the expected high-scoring battles elsewhere, Alabama-Miami figures as a defensive struggle. The 16th-ranked Crimson Tide are sixth nationally in total defense, eighth in rushing defense and sixth in defense against scoring with a yield of 10.3 points per game. Miami's top performer is defensive end Ted Hendricks, a 6-foot-8, 215-pounder known as The Mad Stork.

Among other ranking teams playing at night, No. 8 Texas is at Texas Christian for a key Southwest Conference tussle; 14th ranked Houston entertains Idaho, a high-powered College Division team, and Wyoming, No. 20, visits Texas-El Paso.

Elsewhere, Mississippi State is at Louisiana State, North Texas State at Louisville and Richmond at Southern Missississippi.

The big afternoon game takes place in the Los Angeles Coliseum where top-rated Southern California meets 13th-ranked Oregon State for a trip to the Rose Bowl.

That game will be telecast to some parts of the country, also by ABC-TV, at 4:15 p.m., EST.

Second-ranked Ohio State visits Iowa for a Big Ten meeting and third-ranked Penn State plays at Maryland. Southern Cal, Ohio State and Penn State all sport 7-0 records.

Michigan, No. 4, hosts Wisconsin; Georgia, No. 5, is at Auburn, No. 12; sixth-ranked Missouri has a doozy at Oklahoma and seventh-ranked Kansas travels to Kansas State.

Notre Dame, ranked ninth, entertains Georgia Tech, 10th-ranked Arkansas faces Southern Methodist in Little Rock.

Ohio University has an 8-0 record but the 17th-ranked Bobcats must contain Cincinnati and Greg Cook, the second-leading passer in the country.

The other unbeaten teams are Yale and Harvard, which meet Nov. 23 to decide the Ivy League title. This weekend, Yale entertains Princeton and Harvard hosts Brown.

4-H News

The Happy Hands 4-H Club of Salineville elected officers when it met at the Church of Christ Tuesday night, with Miss Linda Hutson conducting the business session.

Named were Donna Saltsman, president; Vicki Mundy, vice president; Charelene Boals, treasurer; Jennifer Powell, secretary; Lisa Corbisello, recreation leader; Shelly Newhouse, health leader; Terri Gearin, safety leader; Diana Hoey, devotional leader, and Linda Hutson, reporter.

Dues will remain the same as last year.

The next meeting will be Dec. 10 at the Church of Christ. The club will practice for the Christmas program.

Names were drawn for a Christmas exchange at the meeting of the Fashionettes 4-H Club of the Summitville area. The event will be held Dec. 31, with a coverdinner at 11:30 a. m. at the Bethesda Church, followed with a sled-riding party near the home of Judy Jackson.

The members voted to prepare personal projects after meetings, replacing the recreation period.

Debra Roseburg led devotions, Barbara Danner discussed vandalism and Judy Jackson health. Diane Dangelo was welcomed as a new member.

Members voted to make new curtais for the township hall.

Refreshments were served by Miss Roseburg and Rebecca Rogers. The next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 7:30 p. m. at the township hall.

Junior Editors Quiz on DOGS

QUESTION: Why does a dog pant?

ANSWER: Both Charlie and his dog Red are warm-blooded — meaning they have a body temperature which must be kept at a reasonable level, neither too hot or too cold. The exertion of climbing to that mountain top has heated up both the boy and his dog. Charlie's skin has a very special system to take care of the overheating. About 2 million tiny sweat glands are distributed over his skin, and these discharge extra liquid or sweat. As the sweat evaporates in the air, it cools off the skin and tends to keep Charlie's body heat in balance. If Red could speak, he would explain that his skin is not covered with such useful little sweat glands. Dogs possess such sweat glands only on their noses and on their feet. But the dog has a special cooling system of his own for use after strenuous exercise has warmed him up. He opens his mouth, sticks his tongue far out and pants. This is a kind of heavy breathing which draws cool air inside his body, gradually cooling it down.

Captains Are Appointed During 'Dimes' Kickoff

Area captains were appointed and progress in the battle against birth defects was reviewed during the annual kickoff dinner for the Columbiania County March of Dimes campaign Thursday night at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Fifty attended the event, which featured a talk by Bruce D. Sutton of Columbus, field representative for the National Foundation.

SUTTON briefly described the areas in which money raised from the annual appeal is used. "Eighteen birth defect research centers are located throughout the country," he said, "with many breakthroughs accomplished."

In the final testing stages, he reported, is a vaccine against German measles, a disease that can cause defects in a developing infant if contracted by a mother in the first stages of pregnancy.

The major portion of the money raised in the county is spent on the local level in providing wheelchairs, portable respirators, braces, etc., for birth defect children, he noted, commenting that the general public is unaware of this expenditure.

Sutton's talk was illustrated by a film which depicted the problems faced by the parents of birth defect children and the services available to them, including medical care and therapy for the child and genetic counseling for the parents.

Sutton, who first joined the National Foundation in 1966, coordinates volunteer services of eastern Ohio chapters and serves as liaison between chapter volunteers and National Foundation headquarters.

RICHARD G. Brian, president of the county chapter, introduced the speaker and announced campaign captains for the following areas: East Liverpool, Mrs. Vickie Lane, Mrs. Jean Madison, Mrs. Pansy Ice, Mr. and Mrs. James Crooks, Harold Ginder and Mrs. Brian; Salem, Mrs. Elizabeth Heim, Mrs. Anna DeJane, Mrs. Augusta Ibele, Mrs. Marlene Snyder, Mrs. Theresa Yunk, Mrs. Ida Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Mike McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perkins; Columbiania, Mrs. June Kendall, Mrs. Donna Handley and Mrs. Christine Bright; Lisbon, Robert Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. John Neill and Jack Hammitt; Leetonia, Mrs. Carolyn Newwick and Mrs. Sally McEllduff; Negley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matthews; Damascus, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bush; Wellsville, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Broderick, Janet Broderick and Gary Smith; West Point, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rupp; Salineville, Mrs. Georgia Beckwith, Mrs. Jessie Bolles and Mrs. Orpha Skinner; East Palestine, Mrs. Mildred Oliver; Homeworth, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Iden, Rogers, Donald Elliott; New Waterford, Bruce Urbschat and Key Club, Crestview High School, and James Baxter, Guilford Lake.

The campaign, Brian said, will begin the first of January and continue through the month, including the Mothers March traditionally conducted the third week of the month.

Indonesian At BPW Meeting Tells Of Admiration For U.S.

Admiration for the United States was expressed by Konrad Halomoan Purba of Indonesia as he spoke during the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travellers Hotel.

While reading American history, he said he was greatly inspired by Benjamin Franklin and said the people of his country admired empire builders such as Carnegie, Ford and Heinz. They hope to fashion their economy in a similar manner, he added.

He concluded by appealing for help for the many Chinese orphans and declaring "There is no such thing as co-existence with the Communists. If you believe this, you do not understand Communism."

Plans Furthered For Basketball Event At Midland

Further plans for a varsity basketball preview Nov. 30 for adults are being made by the TOPS Club of Midland.

No high school students will be permitted to attend the preview at the new gym which will be followed by coffee and doughnuts.

Ed Olkowski, head basketball coach, spoke at a meeting of the club Wednesday night, outlining the prospects for the team in the coming season.

He said some injuries are slowing practices, but he expects the squad will be "respectable" in pre-season games. He pointed out the opposing teams are from schools with larger enrollment, and have taller players, but the Midland squad could be the "dark horse" of the section.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas party for members and wives Dec. 22. Members will serve as ushers at the Presentation School Trojan Tournament Dec. 19-22. The next meeting will be Dec. 4.

Burglars Set 'Record' In Looting Music Box

Police received a report Friday afternoon on a record theft that literally was a record theft.

Joseph Walters, superintendent of Thompson Park, told the department intruders broke into the bath house at the municipal swimming pool and pilfered a music machine, stealing 35 records.

Entry was gained through a transom or a skylight, Walters reported. The thieves left through a rear door, he added. The intruders removed glass panels and metal strips from the front of the music box, which is owned by Hune, Inc., of W. 8th St., but the coin box was not disturbed.

Mrs. Charlotte Cole, corresponding secretary, read a letter from the City Federation of Women's Clubs reminding of the screening of the movie "The Whisperer" Nov. 25 at the State Theater. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Margaret Hall, federation representative.

Spillway Opened For 'Draw Down' At Guilford Lake

LISBON — Guilford Lake State Park employees opened the spillway valve Thursday evening to begin the annual lowering of the water level.

The lake is lowered seven feet, all the valve will permit, to kill underwater vegetation near the shoreline and to prevent ice damage to docks in the spring.

The "draw down" will take several weeks and will expose the cracked concrete facing on the earthen dam impounding the 366-acre lake. Repair of the dam has been promised annually by the Division of Parks since 1964, park officials pointed out.
